from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonous miasm of vegetable docay. This exhalation is evolved by the action of salar heat on wet soil, and rises with the wetery vapor from it. While the eun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungs into the blood. There it acts as an irriteting poison on the internal viscers and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to secrete not only this virus, but elso the blie from the blood. Both the virus and the bile occumulate in the circulation, and produce viorant constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathire with the liver, and become tional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and become disordered atto. Fipally, the instinct of our organism, es if in an ettempt to expel the nextous infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the hody in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leeves the surface, and rusnes to the control organs with congestive violence. This the central organs with congestive violence. This the CHILL But in this effort it fails. Then the Feyer follows, in which the blood leaves the cen FEVER follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the aurface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through that other great excretory—the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandons the attempt exhausted, and waits for the recovery of strength to reneat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or paroxysms of FEVER AND AGUE. Such constitutional disorder will of course undermine the health if it is not removed.

We have labored to find, and have found, an applicate

East Tennessee.

The movements of the gallant Union men of East Tennessee continue to afford a matter of unfeigned alarm as well as of daily chronicle to the Secession press. It is a most mortifying consideration that we should derive from Secession sonrces all our iatelligence respecting these indications of unabated loyalty to the National Government-a loyalty which has not only refused to blench in the presence of revolutionary violence, but has even survived the apparent desertion of a Government which boasts of an army reaching to the number of 660,000. It is greatly to be regretted that of this large force no portion can be diverted to the rescue and defense of the intrepid Unionists of East Tennessee, who have deserved something better than a baiter as a reward for their persistent fidelity to the national flag We append from recent Southern journals some very painful intimations under this head
